

Continuing professional development Solicitors Regulation Authority (SRA) requirements

Education & Training Unit
Version 1

All solicitors and registered European lawyers (REs) in practice in England and Wales are required to undertake continuing professional development (CPD) activities.

The CPD year runs from 1 November to 31 October. The requirements are outlined below.

Requirements in hours

For newly qualified solicitors and REs:

- one hour for each complete month worked from date of admission/registration to 31 October (Those admitted/registered on 1 November will go straight into their first CPD year.)

For all solicitors and REs in their first CPD year and in each subsequent year:

- 16 hours

Please note

- All solicitors must undertake the Solicitors Regulation Authority (SRA) Management Course Stage 1 between the date of admission and the end of the third CPD year. The seven hours that the course attracts count towards the CPD requirement.
- Solicitors who work part time should refer to Continuing professional development: Information for solicitors working part time.
- Solicitors who qualified by undertaking the Law Society Finals Examination, which was phased out in 1994, or the Qualified Lawyers Transfer Test (QLTT) have a requirement to attend the Financial and Business Skills (not the exam) and the Client Care and Professional Standards modules of the Professional Skills Course (PSC) during their first CPD year. The hours gained from attending these modules will count towards a solicitor's first-year CPD requirement. No hours can be claimed for undertaking the modules prior to admission. The following are exempt from the requirement to attend the two PSC modules:

- solicitors who undertook the Legal Practice Course and PSC prior to admission
- solicitors who sat the Professional Conduct and Accounts heads of QLTT
- solicitors transferring from Scotland via QLTT

Earning CPD credit by attending accredited courses

At least 25 per cent of the requirement must be met by participating in courses that are offered by providers authorised by the SRA and which require attendance for one hour or more.

"Participation" includes preparing, delivering and/or attending accredited courses.

"Attendance" means attendance at the complete course. Part attendance does not count at all.

"Course" includes

- face-to-face sessions forming part of a course, including those delivered by an authorised distance-learning provider
- a course wholly provided by distance learning that involves assessment by dissertation and written examination
- structured coaching sessions, delivered face to face, of one hour or more, which have written aims and objectives, are documented showing an outcome, and are accredited under an authorisation agreement
- structured mentoring sessions involving professional development, of one hour or more, delivered face to face, which have written aims and objectives, are documented showing an outcome, and are accredited under an authorisation agreement

Earning CPD credit by undertaking other activities

The remaining 75 per cent of the CPD requirement, too, may be met by participating in activities as described above. However, it may also be met by undertaking a wide range of other activities, outlined below.
