General information

The National College of Legal Training (NCLT) is a collaboration between Central Law Training (CLT), the leading provider of CPD training for lawyers in the UK and the University of the West of England (UWE)—the perfect combination to help you build your career in law. We offer the reputable UWE LPC on a full time and part time basis at universities and state of the art study centres in London, Manchester, Sunderland, Southampton, Coventry and Derby. Our LPC is of the highest quality and students benefit from comprehensive materials and being taught by experienced tutors, who are all practitioners.

For those non-law students looking for a career in law, NCLT also offer a part-time weekend study Graduate Diploma in Law (GDL) in London, Manchester and Southampton.

At NCLT we recognise the importance of careers support, offering our students the opportunity to attend careers events and receive individual advice and guidance. What's more, by keeping our costs low we can ensure that UWE's courses are financially accessible, without compromising on quality. So if you are looking for a LPC or GDL provider which offers top tuition, careers support and affordable fees, think about NCLT, the truly practical option.
