

BPP Law School, Waterloo

Legal Practice Course provider institutional profile

Please note: The information contained in this institutional profile is supplied by BPP's Law School, London (Waterloo); it is not endorsed by the Solicitors Regulation Authority (SRA).

General information

BPP is a leading provider of professional legal education, committed to providing you with an outstanding programme of study in Holborn, Leeds, Manchester or Waterloo.

BPP provides the skills, resources and individual support needed to prepare you for the realities of legal practice including first rate facilities, award-winning pro bono projects and an unrivalled careers service.

Taught by experienced solicitors from a variety of practice backgrounds, you will benefit from a programme designed in close collaboration with leading law firms and a range of electives ensuring you can study the area of legal practice most important to you. With a strong reputation within the legal community, many of the country's top law firms exclusively send their trainees to BPP.

At BPP you have the opportunity to graduate with an LPC and a Masters degree in Professional Legal Practice. For further information, please visit http://www.bpplawschool.com/programmes/awardofllm/award_of_llm.htm.

The facilities at BPP Law School, Waterloo have been specially designed for the needs of postgraduate law trainees. It is a newly renovated building with excellent teaching and IT facilities, a well-stocked library and extensive online resources.

Situated in a bustling and cosmopolitan area of London known for its proximity to the cultural quarter of the South Bank, the Law School in Waterloo also enjoys excellent transport links within London, nationally and internationally.

We have dedicated careers advisers offering expert advice and a pro-bono unit which allows students to be involved in a wide variety of projects.

Course fees	Full time 2008-2009 – £11,550 Part time 2008-20010 – £11,000
Validated places	Full time 2008-2009- 292 Part time 2008-2010- 54
Enrolled numbers	The course is expected to be full on registration in September 2009
Programme length	Full time – 36 weeks Part time day – 72 weeks over two years, one morning/ afternoon per week

Electives offered	Advanced Criminal Litigation, Advanced Commercial Property, Advanced Commercial Litigation, Intellectual Property and Commercial Law, Debt Finance, Employment Law, Equity Finance, Family Law, Immigration Law, Media and Entertainment Law, Personal Injury and Clinical Negligence, Private Acquisitions, Private Client: Wills, Probate and Estate Planning
Delivery methods	One-hour lectures (part-time day students receive comprehensive lecture notes rather than delivered lectures) Two-hour small group sessions on both the full-time and part-time courses
Class size	Lectures in groups of up to 252 Small group work in groups of 18 Skills training (some) in groups of 2-10
Staffing	Meets SRA minimum staff : student ratio Dedicated careers consultants and support staff
Disabled access	All areas of the law school are accessible and can be reached by lift
Catering	Student café area in the building offering drinks, sandwiches and a variety of healthy food and other snacks. Vending facilities are situated in the student common room. The Law School is situated within 200 metres of the cafes, sandwich shops and restaurants of Waterloo Station, and is very close to all the facilities of the South Bank
Website	www.bpplawschool.com
Contact	Admissions BPP Law School 68-70 Red lion Street London WC1R 4NY
Telephone:	00 44 (0)845 0775566
Email:	admissions@bpp.com