

Accountant's Report Form

Under rule 35 of the Solicitors' Accounts Rules 1998 (SAR) an annual accountant's report is required from:

- ◆ a sole practitioner, if the practitioner or any of his or her employees have held or received client money, or operated a client's own account as signatory;
- ◆ a recognised body and its managers, if the recognised body or any of its managers or employees have held or received client money, or operated a client's own account as signatory;
- ◆ a solicitor or registered European lawyer (REL) in in-house practice who has held or received client money, or operated a client's own account as signatory, unless exempt under rule 5;
- ◆ a solicitor, REL or registered foreign lawyer (RFL) who was a manager or employee of a partnership which should have been a recognised body but was not, if the partnership or any of those managers or employees held or received client money, or operated a client's own account as signatory.

"Client money" in these notes and in the form includes controlled trust money held or received before 31 March 2009. As from 31 March 2009, that type of money is included in the definition of "client money".

A "recognised body" is a partnership, limited liability partnership (LLP) or company recognised by the SRA under section 9 of the Administration of Justice Act 1985. A "manager" is a partner in a partnership, a member of an LLP or a director of a company. In the case of a partnership, "manager" includes any person held out as a partner, including a "salaried partner", "associate partner" or "local partner". As from 1 July 2009 a sole practitioner has to be recognised by the SRA as a "recognised sole practitioner".

The managers and employees who, along with the recognised body, must be named on a recognised body's report, are those who are managers as at the date the report is signed by the accountant (or were managers as at the last date on which the report should have been delivered under rule 35, if the report is signed after that date) and, in addition:

- ◆ in the case of a partnership, any person who was a manager at any time during the report period, and any person who, as an employee during that period, held or received client money (e.g. as a named trustee) or operated a client's own account as signatory;
- ◆ in the case of an LLP or company, any person who, as a manager or employee during the report period, held or received client money (e.g. as a named trustee) or operated a client's own account as signatory.

The accountant who prepares the report must be qualified under rule 37 of the SAR and is required to report on compliance with Parts A and B, rule 24(1) of Part C, and Part D of the SAR.

When a practice ceases to hold and/or receive client money (and/or to operate any client's own account as signatory), either on closure of the practice or for any other reason, the practice must deliver a final report within six months of ceasing to hold and/or receive client money (and/or to operate any client's own account as signatory), unless the SRA requires earlier delivery.

When a practice closes but the ceased practice continues to hold or receive client money during the process of dealing with outstanding costs and unattributable or unreturnable funds, the SAR, including the obligation to deliver accountant's reports, will continue to apply. On ceasing to hold or receive client money, the ceased practice must deliver a final report within six months of ceasing to hold and/or receive client money, unless the SRA requires earlier delivery.

7 Declaration

In compliance with Part F of the Solicitors' Accounts Rules 1998, I/we have examined to the extent required by rule 42 of those rules, the accounting records, files and other documents produced to me/us in respect of the above practice.

In so far as an opinion can be based on this limited examination, I am/we are satisfied that during the above mentioned period the practice has complied with the provisions of Parts A and B, rule 24(1) of Part C, and Part D of the Solicitors' Accounts Rules 1998 except so far as concerns:

- (i) certain trivial breaches due to clerical errors or mistakes in book-keeping, all of which were rectified on discovery and none of which, I am/we are satisfied, resulted in any loss to any client or trust; and/or
- (ii) any matters detailed in section 5 of this report.

In the case of private practice only, I/we certify that, in so far as can be ascertained from a limited examination of the insurance/indemnity documents produced to me/us, the practice was covered in respect of its offices in England and Wales for the period covered by this report by the insurance/indemnity documents referred to in rule 42(1)(p) of the Solicitors' Accounts Rules 1998, except as stated in section 5 of this report.

I/we have relied on the exception contained in rule 42(2) of the Solicitors' Accounts Rules 1998.	Yes <input type="checkbox"/>	No <input type="checkbox"/>

Rule 42(2) of the Solicitors' Accounts Rules 1998 states: "For the purposes of paragraph(1)(f) above [extraction of balances] if a solicitor uses a computerised or mechanised system of accounting which automatically produces an extraction of all client ledger balances, the accountant need not check all client ledger balances extracted on the list produced by the computer or machine against the individual records of client ledger accounts, provided the accountant:

- (a) confirms that a satisfactory system of control is in operation and the accounting records are in balance;
- (b) carries out a test check of the extraction against the individual records; and
- (c) specifies in the report that he or she has relied on this exception."

In carrying out work in preparation of this report, I/we have discovered the following substantial departures from the SRA's current Guidelines for Accounting Procedures and Systems (continue on an additional sheet if necessary):
