SRA creates new senior role to support innovation drive

11 October 2019

We are creating a new senior management role of Executive Director of Strategy and Innovation, to lead our future focus on supporting the development of innovation and technology within the wider legal sector.

Actively supporting the adoption of legal technology and innovation in order to meet the needs of the public, businesses and legal sector is one of three high-level objectives identified in the proposed 2020-23 Corporate Strategy.

We are looking for candidates with a deep understanding of leading-edge technology and innovation and how it is applied in a business environment. Candidates should also be able to demonstrate leadership and management skills, and have proven experience of strategy development in complex stakeholder environments.

The recruitment process for the new role is being handled by employment agents, Saxton Bampfylde. Applications for the new role close on 16 October. View fuller details/apply for this role
