Warning: Website claiming to be a law firm called 'Good Law Corporation'

1 August 2024

Website at 'www.goodlawllp.com' was operating and claiming to be a law firm called 'Good Law Corporation'.

What is the scam?

The SRA has been advised that a website of 'www.goodlawllp.com' was operating claiming to be the website for a law firm. The SRA has also been advised that the website claims that 'Good Law Corporation' is 'authorized and regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority'.

The SRA does not authorise or regulate a firm of solicitors called 'Good Law Corporation' or 'Good Law LLP'.

Any business or transaction through 'www.goodlawllp.com' is not undertaken by a firm or individual authorised and regulated by the SRA.

Is there a genuine firm or person?

The SRA does authorise and regulate two organisations with the words 'Good Law' in their name, neither of whom are believed to have any connection with the website detailed in the above alert.

What should I do?

When a firm's or individual's identity has been copied exactly (or cloned), due diligence is necessary. If you receive correspondence claiming to be from the above firm(s) or individual(s), or information of a similar nature to that described, you should conduct your own due diligence by checking the authenticity of the correspondence by contacting the law firm directly by reliable and established means. You can contact the SRA to find out if individuals or firms are regulated and authorised by the SRA and verify an individual's or firm's practising details. Other verification methods, such as checking public records (e.g. telephone directories and company records) may be required in other circumstances.
