

Period of recognised training

September 2021

You can only qualify through this route if you meet our transitional requirements [<https://www.sra.org.uk/become-solicitor/legal-practice-course-route/becoming-solicitor-legal-practice-course-transitional-requirements/>] .

If you do not meet these, you will need to qualify under the SQE [<https://www.sra.org.uk/become-solicitor/sqe/>] .

A period of recognised training (often known as a training contract) gives individuals supervised experience in legal practice. This is the final stage of the process of qualification as a solicitor where they refine and develop their professional skills they will need to practice.

Trainees can qualify as a solicitor under one of the following set of regulations:

- Trainees that started their period of recognised training on or before 24 November 2019, they need to meet the requirements within the SRA Training Regulations 2014 [<https://www.sra.org.uk/solicitors/handbook/introAuthPrac/trainingregs2014/>] .
- For trainees registered with us since 25 November 2019, it is the Authorisation of Individuals Regulations [<https://www.sra.org.uk/solicitors/standards-regulations/authorisation-individuals-regulations/>] and the Education, Training and Assessment Provider Regulations. [<https://www.sra.org.uk/solicitors/standards-regulations/education-training-assessment-provider-regulations/>]
