

Look out for our logo

Is the law firm you plan to use genuine and regulated by us? If you see our clickable logo on their website, this tells you some important things:

- The firm is regulated by us and must meet the high standards we set.
- The firm is what it says it is. You can check this by clicking on the logo.

It also tells you the firm's clients are protected if things go wrong:

- The firm has professional insurance.
- You can complain to us and the Legal Ombudsman if you are not happy.
- We could help get missing documents and money back.

Different options might be right for you when shopping around for legal help. Our logo could help you choose, because only law firms we regulate can put it on their website.

So you can expect them to:

- keep your money safe
- follow our rules
- do a good job and meet our high standards.

If this matters to you, look out for this logo.
