

Hot topics

Working in-house

We want to help support and develop the 34,500 solicitors working in in-house across England and Wales by providing them a range of support and information specific to their needs, and the day-to-day challenges of their role.

[<https://www.sra.org.uk/home/hot-topics/working-in-house/>] Post Office Horizon, Public Inquiry

We are investigating a number of solicitors working on behalf of the Post Office connected to the Public Inquiry into the Horizon system and criminal charges brought against sub-postmasters.

[<https://www.sra.org.uk/home/hot-topics/post-office-horizon/>] Consumer protection review

We have launched a review of our overall approach to protecting consumers who place their trust in regulated law firms – our consumer protection review.

[<https://www.sra.org.uk/home/hot-topics/consumer-protection-review/>] Immigration services

Users of immigration and asylum legal services can be some of the most vulnerable people in society. The consequences of poor legal services can be particularly severe, long-lasting, and difficult to rectify for this group.

[<https://www.sra.org.uk/home/hot-topics/immigration-services/>] SLAPPs and abusive litigation

Solicitors should not get involved in abusive litigation on behalf of their clients - including strategic litigation against public participation (SLAPPs).

[<https://www.sra.org.uk/home/hot-topics/slapps-abusive-litigation/>] Financial sanctions and other international issues

We want to keep those who work in the legal sector informed of how the Government's financial sanctions regime affects them and the work they do.

[<https://www.sra.org.uk/home/hot-topics/financial-sanctions-international-issues/>] Cybercrime and bogus firms

Raise awareness of criminals who use IT to steal money and sensitive information

[<https://www.sra.org.uk/home/hot-topics/cybercrime/>]