Solicitors Regulation Authority

Cookies

What are cookies

Cookies are small pieces of text that are stored in your browser and that can be read by our services and third-parties that we use and you consent to us using. For instance, our systems use a cookie with an ID in it, like an order number at a restaurant, so we can send you the right page when you request it. After a specified amount of time the cookie is removed by the browser.

Cookies on this site

Essential cookies

These are cookies that are required to ensure the correct and secure functioning of our services. You cannot opt out of receiving these cookies.

▶ Essential cookies set on this website

Analytics cookies

We use these cookies to see how people use the website so we can improve our services. We use Google Analytics, Hotjar and Idio analytics.

▶ Analytics cookies set on this website

☐ Use cookies that measure my website use.

Social media

These cookies are set when you visit us from different social media platforms, so we can see how successful they were. This helps us promote the right kind of content to our audiences.

▶ Social media cookies set on this website

☐ Use cookies that record our social media performance.

Campaigns

We email the people we regulate with information from time to time and we want to be able to see how successful those campaigns perform. Currently we do not set any cookies to do with campaigns.

☐ Use cookies that measure our email campaigns.

All cookies

Accept all   Reject all